Growing Your Own Organically at RHS Chelsea Flower Show 2009

For the 7th consecutive year, Harrod Horticultural will provide more exciting ideas and inspiration for fruit and vegetable growers of all levels and for gardens of all sizes at 39 Pavilion Way. With new season garden trends, organic solutions and exclusive product design launches, it's once again just the place to get your Chelsea Flower Show news stories!

There's the launching of the "one stop shop" raised bed package for immediate sowing and growing! It features 3 new FSC timber bed designs – with multiple height and width options - as well as plants, soil, crop protection and irrigation kits. The shape of beds include square, rectangular and even a triangle shape for corner plots demonstrating that gardeners can make the most of any space. Add the made to measure crop protection solutions that include a pyramid cold frame, hoops, tubing and mesh covers, and it's clear to see that Harrod Horticultural's exclusive "one stop shop" package is the answer for today's gardeners' wishes for quick and simple solutions.

Some gardeners just never seem to have enough space but they'll be amazed at how productive they can make a patio with the innovative range of planters on display. Then there is the handsome FSC timber Trough and Frame that enables gardening without bending and the upside down Tomato/Strawberry Planter shows that you don't even need floor space to grow your own!

Fruit growers will be in for a real treat too! The launch of the professional Wire Growing System will provide a talking point – designed after consultation with RHS fruit growers – and is a great way to grow in a variety of decorative forms to achieve excellent yields. Standing proud over crops will be the decorative dome roof walk-in steel Fruit and Vegetable cage. The striking structure is the perfect answer to ensuring that crops will never again be nibbled at by birds or wildlife!

The trend towards 'green gardening' hasn't been forgotten either with clever and effective organic solutions for composting, watering and pest control. Look out for Harrod Horticultural's exclusive FSC timber Wormery design, Nemaslug biological pest control whilst the "Growtube" has revolutionised the way we water grow bags!

Our exhibit just wouldn't be complete without new tool designs from Sneeboer, all hand forged from the finest stainless-steel. The Lady Sneeboer range is the perfect height, weight and balance for female gardeners whilst other new designs will sit alongside the best of the shorter and long handled favourites that visitors expect to see.

From the plot to the glass! There'll also be a selection of fruit press sizes and a crusher, just the thing to celebrate the time honoured tradition of fruit pressing and the production of juices and cider!

We've certainly got the knowledge with very special guests too. Jaap Sneeboer from Sneeboer Tools and Sue Gibb from the suppliers of Nemaslug complete our impressive 2009 Chelsea line up. What more reasons do you need to visit 39 Pavilion Way this year?
